Subject: EOCCG Update 18: Planned Truck Demonstration

Good evening,

The EOC supported the NCRCC and Ottawa Police Service today to coordinate the movement of vehicles out of the downtown core or onto Wellington Street, away from residential neighbourhoods. Ottawa Police will have a more precise count tomorrow but are currently estimating that about 30 Bobtails (semi-truck without the trailer attached) and 3 vehicles were moved onto Wellington. A small number of vehicles are estimated to have moved out of the downtown core entirely.

Work to further clear downtown residential vehicles will continue tomorrow although there are challenges due to the differing perspectives amongst protest factions. As a result of the focus on vehicle movements out of residential streets today, Police and By-Law temporarily paused their enforcement efforts under the Quick Response Teams.

The Federal Government invoked the Emergencies Act today for the first time since its creation. The Emergencies Act was created in 1988 and replaced the War Measures Act. Its use now is to provide additional powers to help end the blockades, including by freezing financial accounts; rendering essential services such as vehicle towing; and protecting critical infrastructure, such as border crossings and airports. The City's injunction was also passed today, and Council will have opportunities to discuss it tomorrow, at the special Council meeting.

The City's Medical Officer of Health and the GM of Community and Social Services released a special joint statement today recognizing the challenges posed by the COVID-19 pandemic over the past two years, as well as the negative impacts to residents of the on-going demonstrations.
